SCAN-N-ADD OLD HARD-COPY FILES

The screenshot displays a web-based patient file management system. The main interface is titled "Patient Files" and includes a sidebar with navigation options: Home, Schedule, Booking, Patients, Reports, and Tasks. The top navigation bar contains buttons for "Financial File", "List of Appointments", and "Booking". A secondary bar includes "Search", "New", "Edit", "Delete", "X-Ray", and "Documents".

A modal window titled "Documents" is open, showing the following details:

- Name: Name LastName
- Phone: 03/000000
- Pages: 0

The modal contains six action buttons:

- Show Documents
- Import Images
- Scan Document
- Export Documents
- Delete Page
- Delete Documents

The background form shows patient information: ID (2021P...), Name, Phone(1) (03/0...), Birthday (01/01...), E-mail, Address (Beirut), and Notes (Add notes).

IMPORT-N-VIEW X-RAYS

The screenshot shows a software interface for managing X-rays. A central window titled 'X-Ray' is open, displaying a panoramic dental X-ray. The window header includes a patient profile section with the following information:

- Name : Name LastName
- Phone : 03/000000

Below the header, there is a list of dates for X-ray records:

- 27/03/2021
- 27/03/2021

The main area of the window shows a clear panoramic X-ray of a human skull and teeth. At the bottom of the window, there are three buttons: 'View Image', 'Import Image...', and a file path field containing 'C:\Users\Dell\Desktop'. The background interface shows a sidebar with navigation options like Home, Schedule, Booking, Patients, Reports, and Tasks, along with a patient information form.

VIEW-N-EDIT X-RAYS

The screenshot displays the DICOM Explorer software interface. The main window, titled 'Image Viewer', shows a panoramic X-ray of a human jaw. The image is overlaid with a vertical scale on the right side, ranging from 0 to 255, and a horizontal scale at the bottom, ranging from 0 to 500 pixels. A vertical scale on the left side indicates a height of 200 pixels. The software interface includes a top toolbar with various icons for file operations, navigation, and zooming. On the right side, there is a 'Draw & Measure' panel with two sections: 'Measurement Tool' and 'Drawings'. The 'Measurement Tool' section contains icons for drawing lines, polygons, and circles. The 'Drawings' section contains icons for drawing lines, polygons, circles, and text. Below these sections, there are settings for 'Line' (set to 'Pick'), 'Draw only once' (checked), 'Pixel Statistics' (checked), and 'Unit' (set to 'pixels'). A 'More Options' button is also present. The bottom status bar shows 'Frame: 1 / 1', 'Angle: 0°', 'Zoom: 51.1%', 'Window/Level: 255/127.5', and 'Pixel: B=197 G=197 R=197 - (218,53)'. The DICOM Explorer logo is visible on the left side of the interface.
